D. C. Rifle Association Favors Stringency, But Notes Needed Exceptions.

FRAMING GUN LAW

While approving proposed legislation for the more stringent regulation of the use of firearms, the District of Columbia Rifle Association wants the laws so framed that due care is taken not to interfere with the adequate practice and instruction of the youth of the country in the handling and Resolutions just adopted by the as-sociation urge that the sale of small firearms by dealers in the District should be permitted by license only and that a substantial fee of $100 or more annually should be required to obtain this license. Police regulations should be made to govern the transfer of private firearms.

Would Require Registry. The association proposes that persons bringing small firearms into the District should be required to register the fact within ten days; that no person convicted of felony should be lawfully permitted to own or possess firearms, and that the constitutional right of law-abiding efficient to own right of law-abiding citizens to own and carry firearms should not be in-

Members of the metropolitan poforce, the resolutions further should be provided with adebe furnished without charge pistols of the caliber of .38 or greater and trained to use them. Further Provisions Suggested.

The authorized carrying of concealed weapons in the District of Columbia, the resolutions further state, should be limited to government and local officers of the peace, officers and enlisted men of the Army, Navy and National Guard in performance of official duty, and to the peace of the p and pistol clubs furnished arms or loaded; provided also that the member of the rifle or pistol club have in his ssession whenever carrying such a weapon a card or letter signed by the president or secretary of his rifle or pistol club showing him to be a member in good standing.
